

SALFORD

A young person explores the site at the launch

Speaking at the launch, 17 year old Louise from Salford said

"It is really easy to access and great for finding jobs... ..my search produced lots of results"

Young people benefit from launch of cnx2jobs

Young people in Salford can get a helping hand onto the career ladder by clicking on www.cnx2jobs.com, the brand new job search website which advertises job, training and voluntary vacancies to 16-19 year olds across Greater Manchester.

Launch

The interactive website which has been online since September 2006 and had over 33,000 visitors, has an improved design and user-friendly interface and was officially launched at The Digital World Centre in Salford Quays.

Joined-up 24/7 service

The site brings together vacancies serviced by each of the ten CONNEXIONS providers in Greater Manchester and provides young people with 24-hour access to vacancies, whether they are in school, college, at home or using a local CONNEXIONS centre.
